

Hamaguchi Essay Contest 2024

This program is an activity supported by Ministry of Land, Infrastructure and Tourism “MLIT”, Japan.*

Who is Hamaguchi Goryo?

Hamaguchi Goryo was born on a little village which is called Hirogawa town, Wakayama Prefecture now. When the large tsunami resulting from the 1854 Nankai Earthquake struck the village, he guided his fellow villagers to evacuate to higher ground by “Inamura-no-hi” (setting fire to his precious sheaves of rice), equivalent to his whole year's harvest, as a signal of warning. His post-disaster contributions such as building shelters for victims and breakwater apparently minimized post-tsunami damage
